

“I, too, hope something will become of me!”

... said Schubert
to his well-wishing friends ...

C O N T E N T S

ON FRANZ SCHUBERT'S 200TH BIRTHDAY

- 4 Statements by Ian Bostridge, Brigitte Fassbaender, Dietrich Fischer-Dieskau, Georg Eisler, Thomas Hampson, Peter Härtling, Alfred Hrdlicka, Gidon Kremer, Elisabeth Legge-Schwarzkopf, András Schiff, Markus Schirmer
- 12 The “Prince of Song” – A Critique of Old and New Schubert Clichés by Walther Dürr
- 22 The Counter-Symphony – Schubert’s ‘Great’ C Major Symphony as an Answer to Beethoven by Peter Gülke
- 32 Schubert’s “Gruesome” Works by Hartmut Krones
- 42 On the Performance Practice of Schubert’s Dances by Walburga Litschauer
- 52 Schubert Through the Kaleidoscope – The “Unsinnsgesellschaft” and its Illustrious Members by Rita Steblin
- 64 Memoranda on Schubert’s Masses – On the Date of the First Performance of the Mass in F Major by Erich Benedikt
- 70 PORTRAIT • The Essence of the World is Loneliness Robert Holl in Conversation with Carmen Ottner • From Schubert to Schoenberg Juliane Banse in Conversation with Jens Peter Launert
- 76 BOOKS • Pondering Schubert by Walburga Litschauer
- 80 TIPS • Bicentennial Publications
- 82 RECORDINGS • Experimenters, Experienced and Emotional Musicians by Peter Cossé
- 87 CALENDAR • 365 Days of Schubert 1997